1. Chapter 1

hi everyone! this is my new fic, I'll be making some of the characters that will appear but still I hope you like it!

in Asgard

screams were heard from the bedroom and shortly after the child's crying newborn Loki. The child's mother, Saphire, weakened held the child in his arms.

"My son was born three months before ... this presents some risk?" Loki asked

"Not for children" the healer said, "but for Saphire ..."

"I mean she goes .." said Loki

"Yes Loki, she will not survive," said the healer this time the door opened and Thor came to see his brother

"Loki, we have serious problems," said Thor

"I'm not in the mood" Loki said without taking his eyes off his precious son

"Loki, Malekith can not hit us, but your child is vulnerable to attack and he finally had his revenge. We have to hide it away from

Asgard" Thor explained

"What, but he's all I have left ..." Loki said, holding his son in his arms

"So we have to hide it. Loki, his son will be powerful and can return to Asgard when he is older, but for now he has to be sent to Midgard to grow it safe and away from Malekith eyes and black elves" said Thor

Loki looked at his son and then to Saphire, no he could not lose anyone else of his family

"OK, but I want to know everything that happens to him in his life in Midgard with mortals "said Loki

"Okay, it's your right to know how their child is" said Thor

the two gods left the room and walked to the bridge of the rainbow

"By the way, what the child's name?" Thor asked

"Valy, means the power and goodness" said Loki

"Valy, I liked it," said Thor

The son of Loki was taken to Midgard to stay away from Malekith's eyes. Loki, saddened by loneliness, thought to relieve pain needed power and then paid for the evil he had caused with his imprisonment in Asgard. Even after what he did, Thor visited Loki regularmante to be able to tell you what Heimdall saw happening in your child's life. Loki was filled with anger at what others did with his son, but after the war ended was just sad for not being able to see his only child grow.

Midgard (Berk)

"Hiccup!" Astrid called

"Astrid to here!" He said hiccup hiccup he was working on his shield in the pipeline when Astrid came slightly out of breath

"His father ta looking for you, he looks serious," said Astrid

"What gÃªmios or Snotlout did?" Hiccup asked himself "Astrid can start class today?"

"Of course" said Astrid

"Toothless comes!" shouted Hiccup

Hiccup and toothless went through the village and up the hill to the house hiccup. Hiccup opened the door and He found his father sitting in the chair doing his morning sculpture, but he does not seem happy

"Look father, which is the twins and Snotlout did, in my Defeza I can not stare at them all the time!" said Hiccup despairing

"The twins and Snotlout not do anything this time, it's about you I want to talk" said Stoick

"What did I do?" asked sob

"Not done anything, but there's something I should have told you years Ago" Stoick said taking something from a box that was on the table

"What is that?" Hiccup asked curiously

"That's what was with you when I met you ..." Stoick said handing a gold medallion for Hiccup

"What ...? As well found me ..?" He asked Hiccup sob looked at the medallion and was writing something

Valy

"I'm adopted ..." said incredulously sob, his life had been a lie "all this time ... why you not tell me?" He asked Hiccup

"Why I was afraid ... of how you would react," said Stoick

Hiccup was first shock he was adopted, then had that medallion. it does not stand it and walked out the door jumped into toothless and flew as fast as possible, he did not want to be in Berk agor. went through the academy and saw the other teenagers training, it does not bore and began to cry, all this information at once was too much to bear

pov Astrid

I was training the other according the orders of Hiccup

"Ok Hiccup asked me to start training so let's ..." I was saying when I was cut by a huge shadow hiccup

but something was not right, he went straight at the gym and left

"We will follow them" I told the others teenagers we set up our dragons and followed Hiccup and toothless, but they were very polls so it was difficult to keep the pace. In the follow up ...

the nest ?!

what the hell they were doing in the Queen's dragon nest, that place so brings horrible memories

We landed a bit more away from them and what we find we never thought we'd see hiccup I was crying. crying. this is not normal immediately I and others went to console him

"Hiccup what happened?" I asked hugging him

"... It is that my father told me something of my family ..." he began

"What do you mean?" I asked

"Astrid, I am not of Berk ... I'm Adopted" he explained

Adopted ?! what do you mean all we were in total shock, Hiccup adopted? how was that possible?

back in Asgard

"Poor boy ... he does not know what he'll have to go yet," Heimdall said to himself

"Hiccup, what happened?" I asked trying to understand it all

"Duhhh his father said he's adopted" said Snotlout

I took a punch in his face

"Hey! Looks aggression!" he shouted

Hiccup looked for housing dragon queen

"Sometimes I think I was here trying to protect my family, the place where I grew up and had ties, but now, this turned out to be in vain. I was wrong all my life, risked the life of my best friend for those who deceived me all my life ... and not even know who my real family, "said Hiccup that was reflective and deep, hiccup was talking about something he felt

"Hiccup but, what his father had said to you?" fishlegs asked

"Just that I was adopted, but he gave me this" Hiccup said not taking the look of dragon queen and getting a medallion and giving me the medallion was beautiful, it was made of apparently gold, and the strip that was around his neck was made of black velvet. valy inscription on one side, And the other side was the night fury symbol

"Valy? Valy as well?" fishlegs asked

"What is valy?" said the twins at the same time

"Also wanted to know" said Snotlout

"I thought it was my real name," said hiccup with no expression

"Valy? That pathetic name" said Tuffnut which in consequence received a huge slap from Ruffnut

"Let's go back to Berk must have something that explains it," I said

"Bring the prisoner," he said Odin sitting in his huge throne with his son Thor at his side waiting for the trial of their biggest prisoner

"Dad, he already had too much suffering in his life, lost his wife and son, have to let him free," said Thor

"Depends on how he will answer for their actions, the black elf has great possibilities to return, we need to know if it helped us" said Odin

"But what about his son?" Thor asked

"If black elves actually return, the loki child will have plenty of opportunities to death," said Odin

click click click of chains was heard, and large doors appeared the guards escorting the prisoner

"Loki, caused much chaos and disorder, tried to take over the world and millions of people injured, you finished serving his sentence, but still will have to stay only in Asgard, and depending on the situation will have to tell me where, when, and why would wander through worlds "said Odin

"I agree with this, but I heard rumors about black elves back, and this was the reason I separate myself from my only son," Loki said "I want Thor to watch the distance only for your safety"

"I'm okay" said Thor

"Then so be" said Odin
